Trooping the Colour is a ceremony performed by regiments of the British and Commonwealth armies. It has been a tradition of British infantry regiments since the 17th century, although the roots go back much earlier. On battlefields, a regiment's colours, or flags, were used as rallying points.

Happy 90th Birthday to the Queen!

Last weekend some of our families went to The Mall to watch "The Trooping of the Colour" which was part of the Queen's 90th Birthday Celebrations. Here are some of the amazing photos that were taken by Natalia and Matthew's Mum.
