PE (Physical Education) Lessons

PE lessons are compulsory and as a result parents/carers are not allowed to exclude their children from this important part of the national curriculum.

Having PE lessons does not only raise pupils' interest in sport, but also help our children turn their experience into a life-long habit. PE lessons also make it easier to get the message of healthy living across to children early in life.

Year 4 at the Science Museum

'On Wednesday we went to the Science museum. In the first room we saw how people used to do things, before we had electricity. We saw a washing machine which needed two people to turn the handle around to make it work. It was exhausting!

We also saw the first ever hairdryer where people would put a big hat on their heads and then the hot air would be blown into it. My favourite part of the science museum was where we learnt about different security systems which use electricity. We had to find a key to open a door and break the circuit but only one group managed to find it.'
